Hours: (7:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. or 7:00 a.m. – 4: 00 p.m.)

Little Keswick School is a small private, therapeutic residential school, serving boys, ages 10-17 years old with learning disabilities and emotional disturbance. Little Keswick School is unique from other special-needs schools as it focuses on treating the whole individual. The school is located in central Virginia, six miles east of Charlottesville, home of the University of Virginia and near the Blue Ridge Mountains.

We are currently seeking experienced, middle / high school teachers with experience in differentiated instruction. Little Keswick offers a small supportive teaching environment (2:7), with an emphasis on academic success and social-emotional development. Teachers at Little Keswick work in a collaborative environment with communication being an essential skill.

Benefits of working for Little Keswick School include:

- Experience working with students having a wide range of social and emotional needs
- Licensed with the Virginia Department of Education
- Being part of a nationally recognized program
- Taking part in an innovative and proven behavioral intervention program, which includes consistent support for both staff and students
- Accredited by Virginia Association of Independent Specialized Education Facilities
- Mandt certification
